

the protagonis is the pocket. his problem is that video is being broadcast live from within his club. his problem is resolved when he figures out why. except that in this case, his problem actually gets worse because its his people who are broadcasting the video. and once the people who are in the club get out the next morning, the privacy and secrecy of the club can never again be trusted, so his business ~~is~~ ruined. but lets give him some recourse. lets let him win in the end, in some way. shes -- sht -- sheth jones is taken care of by the mantis. (everyone else calls her mantis, the mantis, but th when the genius hears about her for the first time he mumbles 'mantodea(') the mantis, though, is taken care of by the pocket. when he figures out what shes done, she and sheth, (mab maybe sheth isnt quite dead yet when the pocket figures them out)...the pocket shoots them both. or has them killed by someone else in the club. or, maybe, all he has to do is make a phone call to the cops and theyll be all over the mantis...she owes her life to his silence anyway. so, as a businessman, he solves his problem, his remaining problem, the mantis, with a phone call. the pocket disappears, leaves the vl club to rot, to be looted. hes already pulled his profit, and with its claim to secrecy ruined, the club is valueless. and it is the scandal of the world that the insides of the worlds most secret club have been shown to the world live on tv. what is revealed inside is national scandal...a president, or a politician, is ruined that night, and sheth jones and (molly) (the mantis) were being paid by a foreign or domestic enemy of that polic politician. maybe just paid by t e the other side in this country. thats their payoff. the mantis wants to do the job, shes the one being paid o to do the job, and sjeth jones is helping her? or he has the job details, but needs her help to carry out the plan, so his deal is her sex with no death plus she acts as his body gur guard for the night, in exchange for a cu cut. for an even cut. but it doesnt work out that way. maybe he offers her a 40/60 cut and she says she wants 50/50... he demans demands she throw in something extra...sex with no death, maybe. or maybe hes wise to that danger. and just offers her a cut for help protecting him against the pocket during the night, so they can both get out alive... and maybe, in their crime partnership, he begins to trust her...so they do it. but its just her cum reflex to kill post-coitus. and he ends up dead that way. how about the two of them remove all of the pockets guns...or maim them, since they know hell find out at some point in the evening. but, ultimately, all he has to do for revenge is make a phone call. maybe he doesnt get out alive thou though...but he mak makes the call before the mantis kills him...so they all end up dead, sheth by mantis, pocket by mantis, and mantis by police after pocket calls in her location. maybe after pocket finds sheth dead and mantis responsible, and knows about their betrayal in full, the pocket and mantis make a deal. she leaves him in a room, unarmed, but she doesnt think thought through the fact that he could do what he does next: make that phone call to th the pol ice. when they get there ... or, all he does is dial 911 and pick up the phone. pi ick up the phone and dial 911. she shoots him on the spot, but its too late. police will be there. wouldnt she have time to leave before they got there though? i like that theya they all die, that it ends at the club and that the club comes to an end. he can call the police w/o her knowing it. she wouldnt be keen to that possibility, as the genius would have been.