

Violence, as the technological pill eclipses its own pharmacist, and the elite behave inhumanely, while the reflexive murder perpetrated among the mass of the poor makes them more understandable, more sensible, less prone to induce the tones of hell than the lonely parasite they feed.